ACKNOWLEDGEMENTS

Where to even begin to acknowledge everyone who has been a part of making this production happen!! At every turn there has been someone reaching out and volunteering goods, talents, services~ EVERYTHING we have needed has been provided and we have experienced what Community should look like! You are about to be amazed and dazzled and it would not have happened without the production team of Billy Powe, Dave Alford, Joy May, Timothy Watkins, Randy Bullock, Seth Karas and MANY others. We are forever grateful to everyone who has been committed to this production as much as we have been. These young people are Phenominal and deserve our support!!

With much love and appreciation~ Debbie Watkins & Katie Quin

State Street Junior Players is a theatre group dedicated to the youth of Southwest Mississippi. We are under the umbrella of the Pike County Arts Council which is a non-profit organization. Our home is the beautiful and nostalgic State Theater. If you would like to invest in the young people in this area and our endeavors to make the performing arts available to them, we would greatly appreciate your donation! Checks can be made payable to Pike County Arts Council and earmarked "for SSJP". For more information on how you or your children can be involved, contact Debbie Watkins @ 601-341-1652 or on Facebook.

RED

Presented by Seth Karas and Randy Bullock
PCLT April 22-25

RED is an intimate play about a profound painter in whose soul a Manichaeian battle between life and death is played out on his canvases by a struggle between red and black.
